Project Steno Welcomes Wisconsin's Lakeshore Technical College as Partner Program

Project Steno has added another significant court reporting program to its roster of partner programs. Lakeshore Technical College is the 20th court reporting and captioning program to join Project Steno in its efforts to raise awareness of the profession. The program is overseen by Barbi Galarno, Certified Reporting Instructor and Registered Professional Reporter.

Project Steno promotes the stenographic court reporting/captioning profession through social media and community outreach, with the goal of building a robust pipeline of students into school and graduating them in two years.

Educational programs which achieve partner program status have agreed to performance metrics, the purpose of which is to graduate students 24 months after enrollment. To achieve that goal, a Partner Program must:

- Adhere to a curriculum designed to graduate students in two years;
- Incorporate a speed-building and online practice regimen that makes use of an online learning platform such as Realtime Coach;
- Permit regular monitoring of Project Steno students by means of built-in analytics; and
- Confirm student progress to Project Steno on a regular basis, to assure that students are achieving performance milestones and not falling behind.

Project Steno President DeCrescenzo explains: "Our goal is straightforward. We want to repopulate the dwindling ranks of stenographic reporters and captioners in our field. To do that, we need to get motivated students into school and graduate them in two years. The Lakeshore Technical College program shares our goals."

"Lakeshore Technical College has a focus for graduating students as quickly as possible to decrease the shortage of court reporters nationwide," said Galarno. "Partnering with Project Steno, whose mission is to educate the public on the importance of the court reporting profession, as well as giving students the tools to be successful in their chosen program is a win/win situation for both the profession and the new professionals."

Project Steno offers tuition assistance to students who attend a Partner Program. To be eligible for tuition assistance, prospective students first must complete Project Steno's Basic Training course or NCRA's A-to-Z Program, available online or locally throughout the United States. These introduction-to-steno programs are designed specifically to be a screening mechanism to identify students most likely to succeed.

About Project Steno

Founded in 2017, Project Steno is an independent, non-affiliated organization that relies entirely on financial support from the court reporting community. Its goals are to:

- Promote the stenographic reporting profession and recruit promising students;
- Partner with stenographic reporting schools and programs to graduate students in two years;
- Defray education costs by awarding tuition assistance to qualifying students in schools and programs across the country.

Project Steno holds 501(c)3 status as a charitable organization. It operates entirely on a not-for-profit basis. In January 2018 Project Steno launched its program of tuition assistance and placed its first students in court reporting school. With the manifest enthusiasm of court reporters everywhere, Project Steno will continue to raise funds to promote widespread awareness of our unique profession and create a robust pipeline of students into court reporting schools and graduates into the field.
